

Sani-Rail® Product(s) Warranty

Life Science Products, Inc. guarantees the Sani-Rail® products (wall protection, door protection and specialty metal fabrication) to be free of manufacturing defects beyond standard controllable deviations in die extrusions and anodizing and to otherwise have been supplied in accordance with published specifications.

Under the terms of this warranty LSP agrees to replace any products found to be defective due to normal wear and abuse for a period of one (1) year following installation. The end user agrees to notify LSP in writing of any conditions considered as defective and to allow LSP the right to examine such claimed defects for 30 days prior to remedial action. Should such remedy be necessary, the owner shall secure necessary release from liability from the building occupants who may be affected by such repair procedures and shall remove all obstructions that may impede such repair. In no event will LSP be liable for special, incidental, indirect, consequential or punitive damages.

In the event of our failure to comply with the above mentioned conditions and after being notified in writing from the Owner, we collectively authorize the Owner to proceed to have the such defective work replaced and/or repaired at our expense.

The terms and conditions of this warranty begin as of the effective date listed below and the warranty will not be honored until payment has been received in full by Life Science Products, Inc.
